

Subject-Verb Agreement

PART A

INDEFINITE PRONOUNS AND VERBS

Directions: Underline the verb which agrees with the indefinite pronoun.

1. Each of the family members (has, have) one vote.
2. One of the boys (eat, eats) pizza every week.
3. Both of the answers (is, are) correct.
4. A few of the staff (was, were) gone today.
5. All animals (run, runs) when they are scared.
6. Someone (has, have) his own sandwich.
7. Much (has, have) happened since high school.
8. You know that others (has, have) tried this.
9. We can begin since everybody (has, have) arrived.
10. Less (is, are) usually the way to go.

PART B

SINGULAR OR PLURAL

Directions: Some indefinite pronouns can be either singular or plural. Decide if the indefinite pronoun is singular or plural and underline the verb that agrees with it.

1. All of the newspaper (is, are) ruined.
2. Some of the cookies (has, have) been eaten.
3. More (is, are) coming to the play.
4. None of those people (is, are) familiar to me.
5. Such (is, are) life.

Subject-Verb Agreement Answers

PART A

INDEFINITE PRONOUNS AND VERBS

ANSWERS:

1. Each of the family members has one vote.
2. One of the boys eats pizza every week.
3. Both of the answers are correct.
4. A few of the staff were gone today.
5. All animals run when they are scared.
6. Someone has his own sandwich.
7. Much has happened since high school.
8. You know that others have tried this.
9. We can begin since everybody has arrived.
10. Less is usually the way to go.

PART B

SINGULAR OR PLURAL

ANSWERS:

1. Singular: All of the newspaper is ruined.
2. Plural: Some of the cookies have been eaten.
3. Plural: More are coming to the play.
4. Plural: None of those people are familiar to me.
5. Singular: Such is life.

